

Questions for final report meeting Monday at 2 pm

* To what extent should I include every single item ever given to us in appendix

My suggestion is that we only include those major donations that were not books, unless the books were historic and not written by the donor, and that we stick with key items.

Although it is clear to me that McMilan didn't sign a deed of gift, did she in fact make a donation perhaps?

- and should that donation, if it was made, be included in our appendix for gifts made to the collection

What exactly is the difference between our appendix for gifts made to the collection and Eileen's portion of chapter six. How do you want the 2 of them to differ

Do you want the differentiation made between interviews with depositions and just regular interviews, and then interviews that were audiotaped to be made at all?
