Dear Mr. Livingstone:

I am writing in response to your continued concerns about authenticity issues related to the Zapruder film represented to the National Archives by the LMH Co. as the "out-of-camera original," and the various copies of the Zapruder film held by NARA: in particular, the two copies represented as "first generation," and donated to the National Archives by the Secret Service.

You have also expressed repeated concerns about autopsy photography of President Kennedy over the years in your books and letters.

Without revealing any details of our ongoing work, I can tell you that work is being done for the Review Board by an independent consultant that will substantially address many of the issues that concern you regarding the Zapruder film. Two technical reports related to Zapruder film issues are still in preparation, and the staff does not yet know what the conclusions will be, or how many conclusions can be definitively reached. Furthermore, many of our medical depositions concerned issues related to autopsy photography. We intend to publicly release our depositions and interviews related to President Kennedy's autopsy prior to shut-down on September 30, 1998, and the reports concerning Zapruder and other photographic issues being prepared by consultants will become part of the public record after September 30, 1998, when the Review Board is disestablished.

While the Review Board will not be taking any position, or making any judgments, on authenticity issues related to either the Zapruder film, copies of the film, or autopsy photography of President Kennedy, I believe many researchers will find the technical reports written by our consultants, and the testimony of autopsy witnesses, of great interest. Each individual researcher will be free to study and interpret these records as he or she sees fit, in accordance with the spirit of the JFK Act.

Mr. Harrison E. Livingstone
