JFK ASSASSINATION RECORDS REVIEW BOARD ACQUIRES PERSONAL PAPERS OF TOP WARREN COMMISSION ATTORNEY; AVAILABLE TO PUBLIC

The Assassination Records Review Board, an independent federal agency overseeing the identification, review, and release of records related to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, announced today that the personal files of the late J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel of the Warren Commission, are available to the public at the National Archives.

"I am particularly gratified that the Board has acquired these files. They provide unique insight into the behind-the-scenes operations of the Warren Commission," said Dr. William Joyce, a member of the Review Board. "The materials offer a better understanding of the role that the Commission members played in the drafting of the final report on the assassination of President Kennedy. This is a most significant collection."

Rankin's personal papers were donated to the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection (JFK Collection) by his son, attorney James Rankin. They include memos and handwritten changes to the draft chapters of the final report that were recommended by Commission members, including Representative Gerald Ford (R-MI), John McCloy, and Allen Dulles. The documents also include the daily scheduling diary prepared by Mr. Rankin's secretary. There are approximately 40,000 pages in the Rankin collection.

The Rankin papers have been transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration for inclusion in the JFK Collection, which is housed at the National Archives facility in College Park, Maryland.

Copies of selected documents from the Rankin papers are available from the Assassination Records Review Board, 600 E Street, NW, Second Floor, Washington, DC 20530; telephone number: (202) 724-0088.
