Re: Warren Commission Documents Referred to LBJ Library

Dear Tina:

I spoke with Regina Greenwell this morning regarding the set of Warren Commission records found at NARA which appear to have LBJ Library restrictions. Since the documents in question have been assigned Warren Commission RIF numbers, it wasn't possible for Regina to check them against the Library's data base. Therefore, we decided that the best course of action would be to send copies of these records, identified on the attached list, directly to you to determine their current status. I believe most of these are duplicates which have probably already been opened. As these records are clearly assassination-related, the Review Board would like to ensure that they are available to the public. In the event that these records are still subject to donor restrictions, we request the LBJ Library take the necessary steps to authorize their release.

We intend to resolve remaining outstanding issues regarding Warren Commission records by the next Board meeting scheduled for March 10. If possible, we would appreciate your response to this request on or before March 6.

Once again, we appreciate your assistance.

Sincerely,
