COMMENTS:

Steve:

I am enclosing a list of the FBI's "HSCA Subjects" that have now been through the "negotiation" phase with members of the Review Board staff. Provided the FBI can get these subjects through their "post-production" process by the end of March, all of these subjects -- and a few more that are nearly complete -- should be included in the Bureau's mid-April release to the Collection.

If you have any questions, or need any information about the types of records or number of records within a particular subject, please feel free to give me a call.

I hope this helps you to prepare for the influx of records.
