

DRAFT -- 7/15/96

Headquarters HSCA Administrative File (62-117290)

440 “not open” RIFs

399 of these 440 RIFs contain NAR redactions

FBI initial review complete. Entire file was processed under JFK Act, in the sense that a RIF is associated with every document in the file, even those totally withheld as NAR.

HSCA Subject Files

Approximately 209,000 pages awaiting FBI review

In last 12 months, approximately 28,000 pages have been reviewed

JFK Task Force has informally advised that it estimates that, with current resource levels and review procedures, it will take approximately six years to complete review

To date, FBI has not made any NAR redactions (Carol Keeley is confirming this). FBI has understood that, if information was provided to HSCA for its Kennedy investigation, then NAR claims are inappropriate. Where FBI believes that a particular document or part of a file was not provided to the HSCA, the FBI so indicates with a “kick sheet,” but does not process it under the JFK Act or create a RIF for the withheld material.

Carol Keeley believes, but will attempt to confirm, that the JFK Task Force “double-checked” that it had identified all of the records provided to the HSCA in its Kennedy investigation. (The FOIA section had already identified these records before the Task Force was created.) Carol is not familiar with the corresponding files reviewed in the HSCA’s King investigation (volume, current location, etc.)

Headquarters Church Committee File (62-116395)

480 “not open” RIFs

407 of these 480 RIFs contain NAR redactions

FBI initial review complete. Entire file has been reviewed under the JFK Act, in the sense that a RIF is associated with every document in the file, even those totally withheld as NAR.

There is no set of "Church Committee subject files" -- theoretically, all records provided by FBI to the Church Committee are part of this file, often as "enclosures behind file" ("EBFs").
