

Assassination Records Review Board FY 1996 Report

I.I. Introduction to the Assassination Records Review Board

The Assassination Records Review Board is an independent federal agency that was created to oversee the identification and release of records related to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The Review Board was established by the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992 (PL 102-526, the "Act"), which received broad bipartisan support and was signed into law by President Bush. The five members of the Board were appointed by President Clinton, confirmed by the U. S. Senate, and sworn in on April 11, 1994. The act gives the Assassination Records Review Board the mandate and the authority to identify, secure, and make available all records related to President Kennedy's assassination.

The Board has until October 1, 1997 to fulfill its mandate.

Background for the Act

On November 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated while traveling in a motorcade in Dallas, Texas. His tragic death and the subsequent murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, the President's alleged assassin, led to the creation of the Warren Commission seven days after the assassination.

Continuing public suspicion and speculation that all of the facts surrounding the assassination had not come to light led the House of Representatives to establish the House Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA) in 1976 to reopen the investigation.

In addition to these two major federal investigations of the assassination of President Kennedy, four other federal investigatory bodies have dealt with the assassination to some degree. President Ford created The Rockefeller Commission in 1975 to investigate Central Intelligence Agency activities within the United States. Part of the Commission's efforts related to the Kennedy assassination. Also in 1975, Congress created the Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities (the Church Committee) and the House Select Committee on Intelligence (the Pike Committee). Some of the work of these committees was related to the assassination.

These official investigations, however, did not satisfactorily answer the questions raised by the public about the assassination of President Kennedy. In response to continued, heated speculation, Congress passed the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992, which mandated the creation of the Assassination Records Review Board. The provisions of the Act were designed as an alternative to insufficient previous efforts to clarify widely held troubling questions about the assassination of President Kennedy and the actions of U. S. Government institutions and personnel, and to address inadequate existing mechanisms for the public release of records.

The Act states that “the Freedom of Information Act, as implemented by the executive branch, has prevented the timely public disclosure of records relating to the assassination . . .” [emphasis added]. In addition, Executive Order No. 12958 on “Classified National Security Information” specifically excludes from the automatic declassification provision matters such as intelligence sources and methods and the identification of informants, which form the core of the Kennedy assassination records which remain classified. The Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs concluded that the creation of a Review Board was required to ensure an “independent and enforceable mechanism for disclosure under uniform standards for review.”

Key Provisions of the Act

The President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act states: “All Government records concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy should carry a presumption of immediate disclosure.” Furthermore, the Act mandates that all assassination-related materials be housed in a single collection in the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA).

The Act defines five categories of information for which disclosure may be postponed, including national security, intelligence gathering and privacy. The Act anticipates that there may still be valid reasons for postponing the release of assassination records, but emphasizes that such postponements should occur only in rare cases and only when the harm of the release outweighs the public interest in the disclosure of the information.

The Act requires all federal agencies to make an initial assessment of whether they possess records relating to the assassination. The agencies themselves conduct an initial review to determine whether their records may be disclosed immediately or whether disclosure should be postponed. All records deemed by an agency as not suitable for immediate release are subject to evaluation by the Review Board. The Review Board evaluates all agency decisions to postpone the release of records. Once the Board completes its review of an agency's recommendation for postponement, all records, including those that have a postponed release date, are transferred to NARA. The Act requires that all assassination records must be opened by 2017, with the exception of records certified for continued postponement by the President.

Authority of the Assassination Records Review Board

According to the Senate report on the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992, "the underlying principles guiding the legislation are independence, public confidence, efficiency and cost effectiveness." To achieve these broad objectives, the Act gave the Board specific powers, namely to:

- Direct government offices to provide identification aids and organize assassination records;
- Direct government offices to transmit assassination records to the National Archives;
- Obtain assassination records that have been identified and organized by a government office;
- Direct government offices to investigate the facts, additional information, records, or testimony from individuals which the Board has reason to believe is required;
- Request the Attorney General to subpoena private persons to compel testimony, records, and other relevant information;
- Require any government office to account in writing for the destruction of any records relating to the assassination of President Kennedy;
- Receive information from the public regarding the identification and public disclosure of assassination records; and
- Conduct hearings, administer oaths, and subpoena witnesses and documents.

The Review Board Members

The Review Board consists of five members:

The Honorable John R. Tunheim, Chair; United States District Court Judge for the District of Minnesota

Dr. Henry F. Graff; Professor Emeritus of History at Columbia University

Dr. Kermit L. Hall; Dean, College of Humanities, and Professor of History and Law at The Ohio State University

Dr. William L. Joyce; Associate University Librarian for Rare Books and Special Collections at Princeton University

Dr. Anna K. Nelson; Adjunct Professor of History at The American University.

Review Board Staff

At the end of fiscal year 1996, the Review Board staff was near its allotted ceiling of 30 full-time employees. In addition to the management and administrative staff, the Board employs analysts and investigators. During the past year, analysts continued the review of records and made recommendations to the Board. The analysts are organized in teams and have continued to develop the necessary working relationships with the agencies for which their respective teams are responsible. Team members have all developed subject matter experts that are critical in the review of records and in supporting the Board members in the decision-making process on records. In addition, analysts have continued the important assignment of determining whether additional records should be request from agencies. In the second year of the Board's existence, the research role for the analysts has expanded further into the effort to locate records that may exist in government agencies or private hands. The investigator, who has been primarily responsible for locating non-federal records, has had continued success in identifying and locating significant collections of records in private hands and arranging for their donation to the JFK Collection at the National Archives. In addition, the investigator has played a critical role in locating former government employees who have been interviewed regarding the possible existence and location of additional assassination records.

Infrastructure Update

The time devoted to forming the Review Board infrastructure (office construction and staffing, obtaining staff clearances) in FY 1995 bore positive results in FY 1996. After coping with aspects of the enabling legislation that complicated the start-up phase, the focus of the Board and staff could be devoted completely to increasing the rate of record review and the identification and locating of additional records. The result was a regular and dramatic increase in the records voted on by the Board and the location and/or acquisition of records that were not previously in the Collection.

Development of Computer System

The large number of records to be reviewed by the Board and staff required the development of a computer system that could track the thousands of documents to be reviewed with the tens of thousands of redactions. The sophisticated "frontload" computer system is a critical component for the Board members and the analysts. All records and redactions are tracked on the system through every stage of the process. The nature of the system enables the retrieval of information that is needed for the various reports that are required by law.

Knowledge Acquisition: Getting and Staying Up to Speed

The decisions made regarding the release or postponement of assassination records require a foundation of knowledge about the assassination of President Kennedy, the official government investigations, private research, and the agencies that own the records. The Board continued its focus on having all staff members engage in an ongoing program of reading and study focused on the assassination

II. Financial Report

The expenses for all official activities and requirements of the Review Board and its personnel are detailed below:

III. The Review of Assassination Records

Review Board Meetings and Public Hearings

The U.S. Congress made clear, with the passage of the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992, that it wanted to “ensure that there is an adequate opportunity for public input and participation.”

Although the nature of the Board’s work -- dealing with classified information -- requires closed meetings, the Board continued to conduct opening meetings and hearings whenever possible to fully inform the public of its actions and the release of documents. During the 1996 fiscal year, eleven board meetings were conducted in Washington, D.C. and public hearings were held in Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles, CA, respectively. The details and results of those meetings and hearings are listed below.

During fiscal 1996 and through October, the Review Board acted to transfer 8,972 documents to the National Archives and Records Administration for inclusion in the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection, which is housed at the National Archives facility in College Park, Maryland. These include 3,624 FBI documents, 2,852 CIA documents and 2,496 documents from the House Select Committee on Assassinations. Significantly, all of the 2,090 documents contained in the CIA’s Lee Harvey Oswald 201 file became public in 1996 under the Board’s direction. These include 781 documents consensually released by the Agency. In addition, all of the documents used to prepare the Warren Commission report were released.

Clearly, the Review Board’s accelerated hearing and review process, beginning with document reviews in June 1995, has significantly expanded the historical record of the Kennedy assassination. However, thousands of documents identified as assassination records await review and the identification process for new records continue. Action is pending in fiscal 1997 on 2,265 FBI records, 22,041 CIA records (all of it the Sequestered Collection), 773 Third Agency Equities and 40 House Select Committee on Assassinations documents.

Recognizing the large volume of documents that remain subject to review, the Board has undertaken two initiatives in approaching the final phase of its work:

(1) Faced with the knowledge that it would not be able to complete the review of the sequestered collections within the three-year time frame, the Board instructed the staff to proceed with its review of these collections using special guidelines (see page ____ ) designed to distinguish between records whose relevance to the assassination is clear and those not believed to be relevant. Applying these new standards will permit the staff to identify and review the most significant remaining records in order of priority.

(2) Beginning in November 1996, the Review Board embarked on its compliance program (see page ___) which is designed to document federal agency compliance with the Act. The compliance program will help us to organize our efforts in the final phase of our operation. Not only will it provide a record of the efforts on the part of the agencies, but it will allow for a comprehensive evaluation of completeness of the effort.

DOD released three documents and DOS released 30 documents, some of which pertain in part to the HSCA's 1978 trip to Cuba to interview Castro. Many of these documents have been previously available in redacted form.

The Board voted to release 21 of these CIA documents at the January 5th meeting, but reconsidered them at its March 19, 1996 meeting after receiving additional evidence from the CIA. When the issue in these documents was disclosure of the originator of the cable, the Board voted to use the following substitute language "CIA Installation in Northern Europe (or "South Asia") (followed by a designated number)."

February 29- March 1, 1996

The Review Board met in closed session for two days of meetings. These meetings included staff briefings on various pending matters, a classified briefing by the National Security Agency, and a classified briefing by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Board voted that some information relating to intelligence sources and methods and true names should not be released at this time.

Other Board action included votes to release 130 FBI documents, 27 in full and 103 in part. These documents relate in part to the Bureau's investigation of the incident involving Sylvia Odio in the fall of 1963, before the assassination. The Board voted to release six HSCA documents, five in full and one in part. Included in this group are four documents that relate to Secret Service protection of the President.

In addition to the 21 CIA documents from the January 5 and 28, CIA documents from the January 31, 1996 meetings were reconsidered by the Board, (referred to above), along with two other CIA documents. The Board reconsidered a CIA document originally voted on at the November 14, 1995 meeting. The issue was protection of information about an individual. The other CIA document reconsidered by the Board was from the December 13, 1995 meeting. As with other CIA documents originally considered at Board meetings of January 5th and January 31st, the issue is disclosure of the originator of a cable. The Board voted to use substitute language in these documents.

Notification of the Review Board's action on these documents was sent to the President of the United States and the agencies on April 2, 1996. The President has 30 days to agree or disagree with the Review Board's determinations.

In other Board activities, 886 additional documents were opened in full by the CIA and the FBI, as well as records from the files of the HSCA. ### Public Hearings

August 6, 1996

Review Board Offices

Washington, DC

This public hearing was conducted to give the public an opportunity to comment on how the Review Board should process a large volume of CIA records known as the "Sequestered Collection."

During the summer of 1996, after making progress on the review and release of records from the CIA's Oswald 201 File, the Review Board turned its attention to the CIA's so-called Sequestered Collection. These are the CIA records that were segregated at the time of the HSCA investigation.

The Sequestered Collection ranges from records of direct relevance to the assassination to others for which the Review Board is unable to identify any relevance. The Board and staff undertook an effort to establish an approach to the handling of these records that was fully consistent with its mandate and responsibilities, and, at the same time, reflects a reasonable and appropriate investment of (Board, staff, and agency) resources. Separating the "wheat from the chaff," and devoting the Board's time to a detailed review of postponements in the "wheat," was essential to completing the most important parts of the Board's mission on time.

The Board heard testimony from the following invited witnesses:

John Pereira, Central Intelligence Agency

Barry Harrelson, Central Intelligence Agency

Jeremy Gunn, Assassination Records Review Board General Counsel

Steven Tilley of the National Archives

Other members of the public who testified were:

John Newman

James Lesar

Harrison Livinstone

The hearing was very helpful to the Board as it grappled with this difficult area and moved to reach a final decision on this issue.

The Review Board allowed a 30-day public comment period following the hearing.

September 17, 1996

Los Angeles Board of Education Hearing

Los Angeles, California

The Review Board conducted its fourth field hearing in Los Angeles, fulfilling a commitment made by the Board that there would be geographic balance to the location of public hearings. The public hearing in Los Angeles allowed members of the public in this area to observe the Board at work and gave the Board members an opportunity to hear expert testimony from individuals who reside in this part of the country.

The public hearing was a fruitful one for the Review Board. As will be detailed in another section of this report, several witnesses donated records that will become part of the JFK Collection at the National Archives.

The following invited witnesses testified at the public hearing:

David Belin, former Assistant Counsel to the Warren Commission and author of two books on the assassination, November 22, 1963: You Are The Jury and Final Disclosure: The Full Truth About The Assassination of President Kennedy. Belin also served as the Executive Director of the Rockefeller Commission in 1975, investigating CIA assassinations of foreign leaders.

James DiEugenio, author of Destiny Betrayed: JFK, Cuba and the Garrison Case, an analysis of New Orleans's District Attorney Jim Garrison's inquiry and the assassination itself.

Eric Hamburg, co-producer of the Oliver Stone movie Nixon and a former Congressional staff assistant involved in the passage of the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992.

Wesley Liebeler, former Assistant Counsel to the Warren Commission and currently a professor of law at UCLA. Liebeler donated to the JFK Collection an unpublished manuscript he wrote on various controversies surrounding the assassination.

David Lifton, author of Best Evidence: Disguise and Deception In The Assassination of John F. Kennedy, which focused on the medical evidence in the case. He is currently working on a book about Lee Harvey Oswald. Lifton agreed to donate various original oral histories of various witnesses connected to the assassination story that he recorded in the late 1960's and early 1970's.

James Rankin, son of former General Counsel to the Warren Commission, the late J. Lee Rankin. He testified about his father's personal papers related to his work for the Warren Commission and agreed to donate them to the JFK

Collection.

Robert Tanenbaum, former Deputy Counsel for the House Select Committee on Assassinations in the late 1970's. He is the author of Corruption of Blood, a fictionalized account of his experience with the Committee investigating the Kennedy assassination.

Steven Tilley, of the National Archives, oversees the JFK Collection. He gave an update on the contents of the Collection.

Approximately 100 members of the public and the media attended the hearing. The hearing was also televised on PBS in its entirety in the greater Los Angeles area.

IV. Special Projects

Medical Evidence Inquiry

The Review Board has several ongoing areas of investigation relating to different categories of assassination records. One of these investigations of records involves the medical evidence in the assassination. As part of our review of the medical evidence, we have deposed the three principal pathologists involved in President Kennedy's autopsy: Drs. James Humes, "J" Thornton Boswell, and Pierre Finck, as well as the autopsy photographer, John Stringer.

The Board is not authorized by the JFK Act to reinvestigate the assassination. The mandate of the Board is to make the JFK Collection at the National Archives as complete as possible and available to the American public. Although the Board was not obligated to delve into the many controversies surrounding the medical evidence, it recognized the importance of the medical issues and the confusion surrounding records related to the autopsy.

The only way to fairly and reasonably judge the results of the depositions of the autopsy doctors is to review the transcripts of the depositions. The Board has stated that those transcripts will be made public upon the conclusion of the Board's inquiry into the medical evidence, expected by the end of this year. This decision to hold off on the public release of the transcripts for now is important to ensure the integrity and professionalism of the inquiry into the medical evidence while it continues.

Through the passage of the JFK Act, the Congress created a part-time citizen's board with a full-time professional staff. The Congress clearly envisioned an experienced and professional staff taking on major responsibilities at the direction of the Board. The several members of the staff, including the Executive Director and the General Counsel, who were involved in the depositions, were extraordinarily well prepared. Significant time and resources went into the effort and the results will demonstrate it.

Preparation for the depositions involved input from members of the research community, as well as outside medical consultation, study of relevant materials from all past government investigations, and a careful review of all the relevant available literature on the subject. From the very beginning, the Board has received correspondence with suggestions, leads, and requests related to the medical evidence. All of the information received has been carefully reviewed and, in many instances, has been helpful.

Photographic record

In 1996, the Review Board initiated a public appeal for all photographs and motion picture film that could enhance the historical record of the assassination of President Kennedy. This appeal, published in several large and prestigious newspaper, called on those who may have taken photographs or motion picture films in Dealey Plaza on November 22, 1963, to present them to the Review Board for inclusion in records at the NARA. The results of this initiative were the donation of the Veazey and Powers films which showed assassination day events surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy, however, did not include the actual assassination event.

Veazey Film

The so-called Veazey film consists of KTVT television news film out takes that had been discarded during the news frenzy following the assassination of President Kennedy. Literally rescued from the trash by photographer Roy Cooper Jr., the 45-minute black-and-white 16mm film contains unique scenes before and after the assassination. The film and one copy were held by Cooper and his friend, Eli Sturges, and later their heirs. In the decades since the assassination, Cooper and Sturges unsuccessfully sought to sell the film and it was hidden beneath a house for years. Janet Veazey, Sturges' stepdaughter, read a Dallas newspaper account of the ARRB's search for photographic materials from the assassination and notified the ARRB of the film's existence in May 1996. ARRB Press and Public Relations Officer Tom Samoluk went to Dallas to personally retrieve the film and physically transport it to the NARA, where it was viewed and duplicated on video tape. The discovery proves the Review Board's belief that assassination-related photographs and films, which have never been publicly seen or reviewed, do exist.

Depicted on the Veazey film are scenes of the whirlwind Kennedy tour of Texas, including new views of the Kennedys' appearances in Fort Worth, greeting the crowd at Love Field in Dallas, the motorcade, several suspects and witnesses in police custody and Lee Harvey Oswald after his arrest. In addition, the film shows the confusion in Dealey Plaza and at Parkland Hospital following the assassination of President Kennedy, the only known footage of Lyndon Johnson leaving Parkland Hospital and a rare scene of Jack Ruby at Oswald's press briefing the night the president was assassinated.

Powers Film

The Review Board released November 21, 1996, the three-minute, 16 mm amateur film taken November 21-22, 1963 by presidential aide Dave Powers, who accompanied President Kennedy and First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy to Texas. The film, never seen publicly, contained a series of short sequences (some lasting only a few seconds). The assassination of President Kennedy is not shown on the film. Powers, who was riding in the Secret Service car directly behind the presidential limousine during the Dallas motorcade, ran out of film minutes before the motorcade entered Dealey Plaza where the shots were fired that killed the President and seriously wounded Texas Governor John Connally. Because of Powers position within the Kennedy White House, much of the film was taken from a perspective not permitted to news photographers.

The film begins with the arrival of President Kennedy and First Lady in San Antonio on November 21, 1963. The arrival is followed by a motorcade through San Antonio, during which well-wishers rush to the presidential limousine to greet the presidential party. The President and Mrs. Kennedy are then seen arriving and departing from the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base. The film captures the arrival of the President and Mrs. Kennedy in Houston during the late afternoon of November 21st, followed by a motorcade through the city. Footage of the Houston stop is followed by scenes of the Kennedys departing Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth for the flight to Dallas on the morning of November 22nd. The last group of scenes on the film show the arrival of the President and the First Lady at Love Field in Dallas. The presidential limousine is shown at various points in the motorcade through Dallas. There is a brief scene of the President, seated in the back seat of the limousine, being surrounded by excited spectators who have left the side of the street. The last scene on the film is of the presidential limousine traveling on Main Street, minutes before the assassination.

Marina Oswald

Priscilla McMillan, author of Marina and Lee, agreed to ARRB requests to donate her notes from lengthy and detailed interviews with Marina Oswald on her life with Lee Harvey Oswald. In addition, Ms. McMillan donated all notes taken for writing her book.

BriLab

The Review Board is pursuing leads relating to the BriLab investigation.

Foreign Government Records

As part of its mandate, the Review Board has actively and successfully pursued foreign records regarding the Kennedy assassination. In particular, the British government supplied several previously classified documents regarding foreign government and press reaction to the assassination, messages of condolence, funeral arrangements, a meeting with President Lyndon Johnson and world leaders, the Warren Commission, and the final assassination report. These documents were declassified by the British government and copies given to the Review Board for inclusion in the NARA.

V. Board Decisions and Policies on Records Review

Guidelines for Processing and Reviewing Records in the Segregated Collections and Records that Contain Information with No Believed Relevance (“NBR”) to the Assassination

The so-called sequestered collection of the FBI and CIA conservatively total 300,000 pages, which would require several years to carefully read. It is obvious, considering the Board’s current small staff, that it would be impossible to complete a word-by-word review of these documents by Oct. 1, 1997. To efficiently review these documents, which may contain extraneous or unrelated information, the Assassination Records Review Board began developing standards which would be essential in determining methodologies used to review and process documents. The development of these guidelines began with the August 6, 1996 public hearing and culminated with their adoption at the October 16, 1996 Board meeting.

The Board standards for procedures and review of the segregated collections require that:

- The ARRB Staff review every record in the Segregated Collections to determine whether they contain information that enriches the historical understanding of the assassination;
- Whenever the ARRB Staff identifies assassination-related information in a record of the Segregated Collections, the Staff will recommend to the appropriate agencies that the record be designated as an assassination record that should be fully processed under the JFK Act (i.e., be reviewed for postponements on a word-by-word basis under Section 6 of the JFK Act). If the agency disagrees with the ARRB Staff designation, the Staff will notify the Review Board of the disagreement and will make the disputed record available to the Review

Board for its final determination whether the record should be fully processed under the JFK Act;

- Whenever the ARRB Staff identifies records in the Segregated Collections containing information that has “no believed relevance” to the assassination, the Staff will designate such records as “NBR” and document that designation in a written statement that will identify the records at issue and provide a brief explanation as to the basis for the NBR designation. These written statements will be made available to the Review Board for its independent review and the Review Board will have the ultimate authority to determine whether the records should be fully processed under the JFK Act or whether they should be processed as NBRs as described below;
- Records finally determined by the Review Board to be NBRs will not be further reviewed by the Review Board. Upon the termination of the Review Board’s activities, the ARRB Staff written statements describing the NBR records will be made available to the public in the JFK Collection at NARA; and
- During the process of reviewing the Segregated Collections, the Staff will seek continued guidance from the Review Board regarding the scope of records that the Board believes will enhance the historical understanding of the assassination.

For all Segregated Collection records that are designated “NBRs,” the following procedures will apply:

- After a determination that a record or groups of records are NBR records, the Review Board will instruct the agencies to send the original NBR records to NARA and order them to be placed in a security classified facility that is not open to the public. On a case-by-case basis (e.g., CIA personnel files), the Review Board may agree to allow NBR records to be kept at the agencies with oversight by NARA;
- The Review Board encourages the FBI and CIA to make available to the public the information contained in NBR records. It is the Review Board’s understanding and intent that records designated NBR may be subject to FOIA and other laws pertaining to public access to information and that the NBR designation does not preclude records from being opened. Any NBR record (or part thereof) that previously has been released or that will be released in the future (e.g., through FOIA), will simultaneously be released to the public in the JFK Collection; and
- All Segregated Collection records determined to be NBR presumptively are to be opened in 2017. (The Review Board will provide further guidance at a later date.)

In the event that individual records in the Segregated Collection contain information related to the assassination as well as information with No Believed Relevance (“NBR”) to the assassination, the Board recommended that:

- The ARRB Staff will review the proposed NBR material to determine: (A) whether it is in fact NBR, and (B) whether the type of information appears, on its face, to fall within one of the specific grounds for postponements. If the ARRB Staff believes that both (A) and (B) apply, it will recommend to the Review Board that the NBR material be postponed and that the agency need not provide any additional evidence in support of the postponement. The record and the ARRB Staff recommendation will then be made available to the Review Board for its final determination;
- If the Review Board accepts the ARRB Staff recommendation, the final determination form will reflect that such postponements have been sustained on both the specific grounds enumerated in Section 6 and the material’s NBR status;
- Absent a specific reason for an alternative opening date, material postponed on NBR and Section 6 grounds presumptively will be opened in 2017; and
- Under no circumstances will information that is relevant to the assassination be postponed on joint-NBR-Section 6 grounds. Agencies must provide specific evidence in support of postponements in assassination-related material.

In developing these guidelines, the Review Board defined “Segregated Collections” to include FBI Records that were:

- Requested by the House Select Committee on Assassinations in conjunction with its investigation into the Kennedy assassination;
- Requested by the Church Committee in conjunction with its inquiry into issues related to the Kennedy assassination; and
- Records requested by other bodies (e.g., Pike Committee, Abzug Committee, etc.) That related to the Kennedy assassination.

In addition, the CIA’s Sequestered Collection was defined to include:

- Sixty-three boxes of materials collected in relationship to government investigations of the assassination as well as one box of microfilm records. The microfilm records (Box 64) includes several different types of records, including copies of documents from the Oswald 201 file, personnel records, and sometimes copies of complete files from which individual records in the first 63 boxes were taken;
- Several boxes of CIA staff “working files”; and
- Generally those records that were requested by the HSCA in conjunction with its investigation of the Kennedy assassination and, to the extent that it is possible to determine, records requested by other official bodies in conjunction with investigations of the Kennedy assassination. The ARRB Staff, on a case-by-case basis, may review agency records other than those contained in the Segregated Collections for the purpose of identifying specific records that may relate to the Kennedy assassination.

These detailed guidelines significantly reduce the loss of valuable ARRB Staff and Review Board time expended to review, on a word-by-word basis, those documents that have no relationship to the Kennedy assassination, but require the ARRB Staff to review every single record contained in the Sequestered Collection. Those documents that are identified to be relevant to the assassination will be reviewed word-by-word. These actions will allow the Review Board to proceed prudently and to prioritize wisely the time remaining to it. There will, of course, be individuals who will be suspicious of the significance of any withheld information. Ultimately, however, the Review Board’s credibility will be judged less by these anticipated allegations than by the releases that have been made public and by the conscientiousness of the Board’s procedures. These standards of relevance are designed to ensure that the greatest number of true assassination records is properly identified, reviewed and made public in the JFK Collection at NARA.

VI. Estimated Volume of Assassination Records for Review

Since the agencies have not completed their respective reviews of assassination records in their possession, it is impossible to provide a reliable estimate of the total universe of records that will require Board review. The Board is currently tracking approximately 24,000 records that contain postponements, but that number will undoubtedly increase. Since the vast majority of postponements fall into defined categories, decisions made early in the review will apply to records that come later in the process. We are confident that the Board’s early decisions, which have consumed a great deal of time and resources, will provide the basis for a greatly accelerated pace in the future.

VII. The Record Review Process and Compliance with the JFK Act

Compliance with the JFK Assassination Records Collection Act

In November 1996, the Assassination Records Review Board initiated requests to approximately 25 U.S. Government agencies and departments asking that they fully cooperate with the ARRB in discharging its responsibility of assuring Congress and the American people that the goals of the JFK Act have been accomplished to the greatest possible extent. These requests were initiated to assure the American people that the U.S. Government has identified, located and released all records relating to the assassination of President Kennedy.

The Review Board requested the relevant federal agencies and departments provide a complete and specific accounting of their efforts to locate and release assassination-related records, including a full explanation for the destruction of any records.

In response, each agency and department designated a Compliance Official, who ultimately will be responsible for ensuring that each entity has complied with its obligations under the JFK Act, including identification, location and organization of assassination records and the transmission of those records to the National Archives.

ARRB also received agreements from each agency and department to adhere to the compliance procedures outlined by the Review Board.

In addition, the Review Board requested an Initial Statement of Compliance from each Agency Compliance Official which explains the steps taken by each agency to locate and process assassination records. The Statement of Compliance will be part of the agency's comprehensive and final report to the American public of what each has done to locate records relating to the assassination. The Statement will include, to the fullest reasonable extent:

- A complete description of all steps taken by agencies to identify and locate assassination records including, but not limited to, an identification of major record collections and files that were consulted in the agency's search, any departmental file indices consulted, the names and titles of the persons who were responsible for conducting the searching, the physical locations of the records that were searched, the off-site storage facilities (e.g., Federal Records Centers) searched, the specific steps that were taken to locate and retrieve materials in archives, and any other criteria used by the agency to locate assassination records;

- All pertinent updated information so that the Statement of Compliance will constitute the agencies' comprehensive explanations to the public of what they did to identify and process assassination records under the JFK Act, including providing a detailed explanation of the extent and scope of the agencies' searches for assassination-related records;
- A full and specific explanation of any destruction of assassination-related records and the circumstances surrounding the destruction of such records; and
- The status of remaining work to be completed to comply fully with the JFK Act, include identification of the categories of records that must be processed and transmitted to the National Archives, a description of any additional searches for files that must be done, and the projected date(s) for completion of these tasks.

The agencies were notified by the Review Board that, shortly after the submission of written Statements of Compliance, the Agency Compliance Official (as well as any individuals who helped prepare the statements) should be made available to the Review Board for an interview regarding the location of agency assassination records. The interview will be used as an opportunity to resolve any outstanding questions regarding the search, including any subsequent tasks to be completed by the agencies. The Review Board anticipates that these interviews will be conducted in January and February 1997.

The agencies and departments were notified by the Review Board that they should be expected to complete the process of identification, location and declassification of its assassination records by July 1, 1997. At that time, the agencies will submit to the Review Board a Final Declaration of Compliance certifying, under oath, their compliance with the provisions of the JFK Act. This final declaration will set forth all of the information set forth in the initial Statement of Compliance and will also supplement the initial State of Compliance by detailing any further steps that were conducted by the agencies in identifying and locating assassination records. The agencies' Final Declarations of Compliance will be included in the Assassination Records Review Board's final report to Congress.

The Review Board anticipates that it may conduct depositions, under oath, of Agency Compliance Officials along with any other agency officials with responsibility for complying with the JFK Act on or about August 1, 1997. The decision to take a compliance deposition from an agency will be made on a case-by-case basis, taking into account the importance of the agency to the work of the JFK Act and the sufficiency of the agency's efforts to account fully for its compliance with the JFK Act. Should the Review Board decide to require a compliance deposition of an agency, the responsible agency designee(s) will be expected to testify under oath on any and all issues relating to the agency's record search; including the scope of the search, the identity of files searched, the destruction of any relevant records, and any other matters set forth in the Final Declaration of Compliance.

Federal Agencies

The Review Board and staff have been in regular communication with the relevant agencies that may possess assassination records. The results of the Board's efforts to date to ensure that these agencies are in compliance with the JFK Act are mixed. On several occasions during the past year, the Board has been asked by an agency to reconsider a formal determination. The Board has taken such action reluctantly and infrequently. However, in the interest of ensuring that its decisions are based on the most complete evidence available, the Board has been willing to review additional materials submitted by an agency and has, on occasion, changed an initial determination.

Brief descriptions of the status of the compliance of federal agencies with the Act are provided below.

The Department of the Treasury (excluding IRS, Customs, BATF, and Secret Service) -- "Main Treasury" had identified no assassination records under the JFK Act prior to being contacted by the Review Board. Review Board staff members have requested access to specified Treasury records and, last fiscal year, identified approximately two cubic feet of assassination records held at the Federal Records Center at Suitland, Maryland. To date, Treasury has not transferred any of these records to the National Archives for inclusion in the JFK Collection.

Internal Revenue Service -- Section 11(a) of the JFK Act states that the transmission and disclosure provisions of the JFK Act do not take precedence over Section 6103 of the Internal Revenue Code, which affords confidentiality to tax return and related information. Accordingly, Federal law exempts much of the information in IRS investigative files from inclusion in the JFK Assassination Records Collection.

Within these legal constraints, the IRS and the Review Board have worked together to ensure that the Collection is as complete as possible. For example, the IRS has agreed that tax return information may become part of the JFK Collection if the taxpayer (or his surviving spouse or descendant) consents in writing to disclosure of the information.

The Customs Service -- The Customs Service is in the final stages of its work with the Review Board to implement the JFK Act.

Under generally applicable retention policies, most Customs Service records are authorized for destruction after twenty years. However, the Review Board staff identified more than 100 boxes of Customs Service records from the 1950's through the 1970's at the Washington National Records Center at Suitland, Maryland. This year, Customs officials and Review Board staff members reviewed more than 100 boxes containing these records, and identified a small number of assassination records. In August 1996, Customs advised the Review Board that it has concluded its search of field offices and that those offices that had located assassination records had sent them to Customs headquarters for review under the JFK Act.

Customs is now preparing electronic identification aids for all of its assassination records and will transfer the records to the National Archives when these aids are completed. Customs has advised that it does not anticipate seeking postponements in any of these records. Finally, Customs has approved release in full of all assassination records referred to it by other agencies.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms -- To date, BATF has sent no records to NARA for inclusion in the JFK Assassination Records Collection. After some initial difficulties in establishing a point of contact, BATF responded to the Review Board's inquiries by stating that it had searched its records and found nothing related to the assassination of President Kennedy. The Review Board followed up with specific requests targeting particular individuals and events of interest to the Warren Commission and HSCA investigations, as well as to private researchers. In response to these requests, BATF identified one assassination record. BATF advises that other responsive records it once may have had were probably destroyed prior to the passage of the JFK Act pursuant to records disposition schedules generally applicable to BATF investigative files.

The Department of Justice (excluding INS, FBI, and DEA) -- The Review Board has established points of contact within the Criminal Division, the Civil Rights Division, and the Office of Information and Privacy (for records of the DOJ leadership). Each of these offices has transferred records to the National Archives for inclusion in the JFK Assassination Records Collection, including more than 3,500 fully opened records of DOJ leadership offices, the transfer of which was completed during Fiscal Year 1996. DOJ has also allowed the Review Board staff to review copies of DOJ records microfilmed for the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library in order to determine to what extent these records may fall within the purview of the JFK Act. We understand that some of these records now exist only on microfilm. DOJ has also responded promptly to Review Board requests for information and referrals of records from the HSCA and other agencies.

Immigration and Naturalization Service -- Prior to November 1, 1996, the INS had not transferred any of its own assassination records to the Review Board or to NARA. Although the INS had reviewed its own equities in third agency documents and returned them to the appropriate agencies, it had not completed any of its own review.

Beginning in November 1996, the INS finally began the process of transferring records to NARA with its shipment of x files, none of which contained any postponements. The INS now estimates, according to its communication to the Review Board on November 4, 1996, that it expects to complete the review and transfer process by February 1, 1997. The INS has now delivered to the Review Board two of its four original folders from the Lee Harvey Oswald file, and it is in the final process of review of the remainder of the Oswald file as well as the file of Marina Oswald Porter.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation -- The Review Board has worked with FBI documents continuously throughout Fiscal Year 1996. To date, the Review Board has voted on postponements claimed in more than 1,300 FBI records. (The FBI appealed to the President the Review Board's decisions on 139 of these records, dealing almost exclusively with "foreign counterintelligence" postponements. The FBI subsequently withdrew appeals Dec. 13, 1996 on 21 documents pertaining to the investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald and the assassination of President Kennedy.) The FBI also has agreed to release in full an additional 1,600 assassinations records that previously were available only in redacted form, rather than submit to the Review Board evidence in support of its redactions. When it has chosen to ask the Review Board to uphold claimed postponements, the FBI has significantly improved in making timely and pertinent evidence submissions.

By a large margin, the FBI has identified more assassination records than any other Federal agency. As a result, although the FBI has devoted substantial resources to implementing the JFK Act, there is still in excess of 200,000 pages of assassination records that remain unprocessed. At the present rate, the FBI will not have completed its processing of these records until after the Review Board winds down at the end of Fiscal Year 1997. In view of these resource and time constraints, the Review Board is taking steps to ensure that it focuses on those FBI records of greatest use and interest to the public. Within the body of unprocessed assassination records, the Review Board staff is identifying subjects of highest interest, so that the FBI can process these subjects next. The FBI has fully cooperated in this effort.

The Review Board staff has also continued its efforts to locate assassination records not previously identified as such by the FBI. The FBI has assisted this effort by giving Review Board members access to requested files.

Swiss Records

The Assassination Records Review Board released December 28, 1995, five FBI documents relating to the FBI's investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald while he was in the Soviet Union in 1960 and 1961. The FBI had previously sought to keep these documents closed principally because they contained some information provided by the Swiss Government. The Review Board originally voted to open these documents in full on July 17, 1995. The FBI appealed the Board's decision to the President. The Review Board approached the Swiss Government through diplomatic channels to seek a waiver of any remaining Swiss interest in the records. The Swiss Government said it had no objection to the release of the documents, if the names of Swiss citizens were redacted. On December 13, 1995, the Board again voted to release the documents, except for the name of a Swiss citizen, which appeared twice in the documents. The FBI did not oppose the release of the documents after approval had come from Swiss officials. These pre-assassination FBI documents on Lee Harvey Oswald are an important part of the historical record which were worthy of the Review Board's aggressive pursuit. The documents reveal the steps that the United States government took to determine what Lee Harvey Oswald was doing after he left the United States in 1959 and whether or not someone was posing as Oswald.

Ten other FBI documents (including duplicates) which the Review Board had also originally voted to release in full in July 1995 and on which the FBI appealed to the President, were eventually released by the Board in October 1995. After receiving additional information from the FBI, the Board voted to open the documents, except for the numerical portion of informant symbol numbers.

Drug Enforcement Administration -- The DEA has not, on its own initiative, identified any records of its own for inclusion in the JFK Assassination Records Collection. However, the DEA has responded cooperatively to Review Board requests to locate and retrieve files potentially containing assassination records. The Review Board staff is reviewing retrieved records so that the Review Board may determine how the JFK Act should be implemented with respect to these records. To date, this effort has concentrated on files responsive to HSCA requests for information, but records potentially relating to the assassination that postdate the HSCA have also been identified. Under its generally applicable records disposal policies, the DEA destroys investigative files after twenty-five years. As a result, we have not identified any records potentially related to the assassination dating before the 1970's.

United States Postal Service -- The Postal Service has identified in response to the JFK Act a number of records, principally relating to postal inspectors' investigation of the mail-order purchase of the rifle that, the authorities concluded, was used to kill President Kennedy. However, the Postal Service has not yet transferred any of these records to the National Archives for inclusion in the Collection.

U. S. Secret Service -- Over the past twelve months, the Secret Service has developed a system for its internal review of records and submission of documents and disks both to the Assassination Records Review Board and to the JFK Collection at the National Archives. Since October 1995, the Secret Service has processed approximately 500 records referred from the House Select Committee on Assassinations collection at Legislative Archives. Of those 500 records, the Secret Service forwarded approximately 450 records without postponements to the JFK Collection and submitted more than 50 items with postponements to the Review Board. Four documents are still under consideration by both the Review Board and the Secret Service. The Review Board is still engaged in discussions regarding specific requirements under the JFK Act with the Secret Service.

In response to a total of eight requests for additional information from the Review Board, the Secret Service has submitted more than 1,500 pages of material. Three requests are still outstanding, and a few documents from the submitted material are still under review. The Review Board will be following up some of these responses with additional requests in the coming year. The Secret Service has forwarded material from Chief Rowley's files, letters from the public, and protective information (including trip reports, administrative files, and Warren Commission memorandums) from the 1963-1964 period. Most of these 1,500 pages will be available at the JFK Collection by October 1996.

Review Board staff interviewed Robert I. Bouck, who worked with the Protective Research Service in 1963, and Floyd M. Boring, part of the White House Detail in 1963.

Department of Defense -- Overall, compliance with the JFK Records Collection Act by Department of Defense (DOD) services and agencies has been satisfactory during the past year. Each service (Army, Air Force, and Navy/Marines) has now requested subordinate headquarters to search their records for assassination-relevant materials. Likewise, most independent DOD agencies or activities have also taken steps to comply with the statute. The results of this canvassing are discussed by individual service/agency below.

For the most part, the search for records by each service/agency focused on records currently in its custody (e.g., historical files and other administrative holdings). What these searches universally missed were records still under the service/agency's control but no longer in its custody: namely, records stored at the Federal records storage facility in Suitland, Maryland, that have not yet been accessioned by NARA and so technically remain the property of the individual service or agency which created them. (To access these records, one must obtain permission from the owning service or agency, not NARA.) The failure by DOD agencies to search their Suitland records constitutes a serious omission inasmuch as many records from the early 1960's are in this limbo where they are no longer in the possession of the agency, but not yet controlled by NARA. The ARRB Military Team is currently doing a general inventory of records stored at Suitland to identify those that may include assassination-related materials; where significant holdings are found, we intend to make a specific, formal request to the owning service or agency for those files to be searched.

Compliance highlights by individual service/agency:

Department of Defense (General):

- designated Stewart Aly as single point of contact for liaison with ARRB in July, 1995
- Hosted explanatory meeting between ARRB staff and all DOD services/agencies in October, 1995.
- Cleared approximately 45 previously-withheld HSCA documents for release without postponements.

Joint Staff:

- Cleared approximately 20 Joint Staff or Joint Chiefs of Staff documents for immediate release without postponements.
- Identified various historical documents (chiefly within J3 Special Operations Division) as possibly assassination-related; currently reviewing these for future Board action.

Office of the Secretary of Defense:

- Research Board staff received two packages of assassination-related documents from the Office of the Secretary of Defense. The unclassified package contains actions related to various FOIA requests previously processed by OSD; the classified package contains six documents (total approximately 130 pages) related to US policy toward Cuba in 1962-63 time frame. Of the classified document, three have been cleared for full release. The three remaining documents have been cleared by State, CIA, Army and OSD, but have redactions from Joint Staff. ARRB staff will meet with the Joint Staff records manager to request reconsideration of Joint Staff redactions to facilitate voluntary declassification and consent release of all documents.

Army:

- Located, reviewed and cleared for release without postponement Corps of Engineers documents related to JFK grave site.

-- Assisted ARRB staff members in locating, reviewing and partially declassifying documents from the microfilm records of the Pentagon Telecommunications Center. To date, more than 300 documents (all of which are either incoming or outgoing messages in the 1962-4 time frame) have been photocopied for declassification, referral and possible Board action. Documents represent all military services plus CIA, State Department, and other agencies. Personnel from the Army's Center of Military History in Washington, DC, and Military History Institute at Carlisle Barracks, PA, have been particularly helpful in searching for and declassifying Army records.

-- Historical office for the Army's Intelligence and Security Command (INSCOM) assisted ARRB staff in locating Army intelligence files previously accessioned by NARA and held in NARA's classified collection.

-- Army declassification will begin soon on six cartons of Top Secret and Secret documents found at NARA (College Park) dealing with policies and activities toward Cuba in the 1962-4 time frame.

Air Force:

-- Located, reviewed and cleared for release without postponement approximately ten assassination-related documents; additional classified records currently being reviewed.

-- Air Force canvass of subordinate commands yielded a ledger-type book entitled "Log of Events" and "Death of JFK" that appears to be a record of incoming/outgoing messages, orders and reports kept by an unknown individual assigned to the headquarters or operations section of the 1254th ATW at Andrews Air Force Base. This book contains handwritten entries from November 22 to November 25, 1963, describing actions related to the return of Air Force One from Dallas to Andrews and other activities.

Navy/Marines:

-- ARRB has had the least substantive feedback from the Navy/Marines of all the services. Original Navy/Marine POC (Lieutenant Colonel Sparks) departed for new assignment without providing any feedback after October, 1995 meeting; ARRB contacted his replacement in August to rejuvenate Navy's compliance efforts.

-- USMC historian provided ARRB with original paper copies of Lee Harvey Oswald's personnel and medical records for transfer to NARA; also provided two cartons of documents (already open to the public) concerning USMC operational planning during the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962 which generally appear not to be assassination-related.

National Security Agency:

Currently working closely with members of ARRB staff to prepare approximately 100 assassination-related documents for Board action.

Central Intelligence Agency -- Throughout the past year, the ARRB has experienced a high level of cooperation and compliance from the Central Intelligence Agency. The CIA has proven willing to release records of great operational sensitivity where the Oswald story is concerned and has agreed as well to a wide variety of other releases in documents that are only tangentially connected to Oswald or to the JFK assassination. In addition, the CIA has taken upon itself to release in full to NARA large numbers of previously-redacted documents from its Oswald file and JFK records. Particularly worthy of note was CIA's commitment of time and manpower to reviewing records (under ARRB auspices) at the JFK Library in June, where it cleared for release a large body of Cuba-related records from the National Security Files.

So far, CIA's Historical Review Group has managed to keep pace with the ARRB's requests for records and information, but during the coming and final year we at ARRB expect our requirements to increase and significantly exceed CIA's ability to comply unless the Historical Review Group receives much-needed additional staff support. We hope this problem can be solved as quickly as possible.

Department of State -- On July 26, 1996, the Department of State initiated a weekly review process for outstanding responses to ARRB requests to prevent further delay of cable responses regarding identification and acquisition of assassination records held by foreign governments. The origination of this review process was prompted by delays of as long as four months in responding to ARRB cable messages despite repeated follow-up inquiries with the Department of State. These delays, in some cases, may have significantly compromised the Review Board's ability to obtain assassination records held by foreign governments.

Despite the timely handling of cables, the ARRB has received a high level of cooperation from the Department of State, which has continued to release in full most of its records related to Oswald or the JFK assassination. In addition, State actively participated in ARRB's joint-Agency review of Cuba-related records at the JFK Library, clearing for release most of those records containing DOS equities.

JFK Library -- The staff of the JFK Library has cooperated fully with the ARRB, especially in the vast effort to prepare for, support, and process the results of ARRB's week-long joint Agency review of Cuba-related records. The success of this unusually large-scale venture was due not only to the notable cooperation of the Agencies involved, but also specifically to the Library's thorough preparation and fine staff support throughout the week-long exercise. Since then, the Library has rapidly moved ahead to complete remaining document processing and coordination, in order to release this large and important body of documents to the public by autumn.

Library staff has also provided thorough follow-up information to ARRB staff in regard to other collections at the Library.

State, Local, and Private Records

The Board's investigative staff currently has more than 60 issues under active investigation. These issues include contacting state and local officials regarding assassination records that they may maintain, and locating and interviewing key witnesses about records that may be in private hands. The database of investigative contacts lists nearly 700 since it went on line in April.

New Orleans Records

The Review Board announced in 1996 that it had subpoenaed records from the Kennedy assassination investigation conducted by former New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison. The records are held by current New Orleans District Attorney Harry Connick, who has failed to comply with the subpoena.

A federal judge in New Orleans did not grant a motion by the District Attorney to quash the subpoena, and ordered the parties to arrange for a convenient time for the transfer of documents to the Review Board. Connick has failed to comply with the judge's order and the Board is now seeking enforcement of it.

The subpoena required the District Attorney to produce "all documents and records in [his] possession, custody or control relating to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, including but not limited to handwritten notes, memoranda, drawings, photographs, tape recordings, and correspondence that relate to the investigation and prosecution of Mr. Clay Shaw by former New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison, with the exception of any grand jury materials still extant in the possession of the District Attorney's Office."

Connick did not produce the records by February 16, 1996, as required by the subpoena. On February 16, Judge Marcel Livaudais, Jr., of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana, ordered the Review Board and Connick to find "a mutually agreeable time for production of the documents in New Orleans." Connick has failed to agree to a time to produce the documents. The Review Board subsequently filed papers in the U.S. District Court in New Orleans seeking enforcement of Judge Livaudais' order.

On April 9, 1996, the Review Board announced the release of records from the private files of former New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison and from the files of Edward Wegmann, a member of Clay Shaw's defense team.

After being approached by the Review Board, the late Jim Garrison's family agreed to donate a collection of records on the assassination of President Kennedy that Garrison kept at his residence. The collection includes records from his assassination investigation and prosecution of Clay Shaw, as well as other files on individuals or subjects that Garrison thought were connected to the assassination. There are approximately 15,000 pages in the Garrison collection.

The family of the late Edward Wegmann, who was a member of the legal team which defended Clay Shaw at his 1969 assassination conspiracy trial, agreed to donate Mr. Wegmann's files to the JFK Collection. Some of the documents in the Wegmann collection came from the office files of District Attorney Garrison. William Gurvich, an investigator for Garrison, made copies of many internal memoranda and witness interviews from the District Attorney's files when he left the office after becoming disenchanted with Garrison and the investigation. He turned the documents over to Shaw's attorneys. There are approximately 6,000 pages in the Wegmann collection.

The original documents were transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration for inclusion in the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection, which is housed at the National Archives facility in College Park, Maryland.

VIII. ARRB Outreach

Mailing lists

The Review Board has maintained contact on a bimonthly basis for the past two years with members of the public who have requested to be placed on our mailing list. The Board has a regular mailing list as well as an electronic list, and the total number of people on the lists has grown to more than 500. This number is growing every week.

Members of the public on our mailing list receive press releases, updates on the Review Board's activities, meeting results, information about documents transferred to the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection, and Federal Register notices.

COPA Conference 1996

David Marwell, ARRB Executive Director, updated the research community on the activities of the Review Board during the 1996 conference of the Coalition of Political Assassinations (COPA). Marwell informed the researchers of the Board's actions in FY 1996, and provided a preview of the Board's agenda for 1997. The presentation concluded with a question and answer period.

ARRB Open House

On October 21, 1996, the Review Board held an Open House for the public and the research community. Open House attendees were given access to newly released documents, the ARRB video library, and a tour of Review Board offices. Approximately 20 people attended.

Professional Associations

On January 6, 1996, the Review Board made a presentation at the annual meeting of the American Historical Association (AHA) in Atlanta, Georgia. The Board provided background information and updates regarding its mandate. Approximately XX AHA members attended, and the Board provided time for a question and answer period.

On March 28, 1996, the Review Board made a presentation at the Organization of American Historians (OAH) Conference. XX OAH members attended the session and heard the Board provide a brief introduction, and then continued with a lengthy question and answer period regarding specific Board actions.

Journals and Newsletters

Several times a year, Review Board Chairman Tunheim submits ARRB updates to journals and newsletters that serve the research community. In 1996, Chairman Tunheim provided articles about the Board to the AARC Quarterly, Open Secrets, and Probe, all of which serve researchers and are circulated worldwide. In addition, Executive Director David G. Marwell, General Counsel and Associate Director for Research and Analysis, T. Jeremy Gunn, and Associate Director for Communications, Thomas E. Samoluk, participated in an extensive, in-depth interview about the Review Board with the editor of Probe.

Dallas Trip

In 1996, ARRB Chairman John Tunheim, Executive Director David Marwell and Press and Public Affairs Officer Tom Samoluk visited Dallas to tour assassination-related sites and determine fertile areas for additional documents. The tours included the Sixth Floor Museum at the former Dallas School Book Depository, a review of the Dallas Municipal Archives, and discussions with local newspapers to appeal for assassination-related documents, photographs or motion picture film taken by amateur photographers.

"Scelso" HSCA Documents

A category of records that has received a lot of attention involve a former CIA employee who testified before the HSCA in executive session under the pseudonym "John Scelso." The Review Board has postponed the name of this former CIA employee who was involved in the assassination investigation.

The Board voted to release the individual's name in 188 "Scelso" documents on either May 1, 2001, or three months after the death of the individual whose name is postponed, whichever occurs first.

The Review Board is very much aware of the research community's interest in knowing the identity of the person identified in the records under the pseudonym of "John Scelso." The ARRB received extensive information about the true identity of Mr. Scelso. Because of issues related to his identity, the Board decided that Mr. Scelso should be protected for five years, after which his true name will be revealed.

The ARRB is obtaining additional information regarding Mr. Scelso's work at the CIA both before and after the assassination. Much of this information has already been revealed in Mr. Scelso's sworn testimony before the HSCA, which will be made available to the public shortly. Moreover, additional information gathered by the ARRB regarding Mr. Scelso also will be made available within the next year.

IX. Conclusion

An obvious question facing the Board in its last mandated year of existence is whether it will be able to complete its work on time. Until now, the Review Board has been faithful to the time constraints set by the Act. Unfortunately, the same cannot be said for other components of the review process. Executive branch agencies and committees of Congress, almost without exception, have failed to review all of their records and make them available for the Board's review within the set time limits. Indeed, many have yet to complete even their initial review. The Senate Intelligence Committee, for example, has yet to process the complete holdings of its Church Committee files, and the FBI itself has claimed that it will be unable to complete its task before the end of the century despite a significant investment of resources. In the rare cases of appeal to the White House, the President has far exceeded the thirty-day appeal period, thereby leaving the Board and the FBI in doubt about important questions of precedent.

This lack of fidelity to the prescribed deadlines says (in most cases) as much or more about the ambitious time limits set by the Act as it does about the resolve and commitment of the parties involved. The Review Board has done its best to proceed in a practical and realistic fashion, and, with continued cooperation from most agencies and new efforts from others, will be able to complete its work in all but two areas within the three-year deadline. With the exception of the sequestered collection at the CIA (see page ____ ) and the FBI's HSCA collection (see page ____), the Board expected to have completed its review of assassination records identified by federal agencies, collected significant non-federal records, and identified and processed additional federal records not identified by the agencies. The Board will not, however, be able to complete the word-for-word, document-by-document review of the records that make up the so-called sequestered collections of the FBI and CIA.
