

Francis (Frank) G. McGuire

A veteran writer and speaker, Frank -McGuire is sole heir to the personal papers and manuscripts of Evelyn Lincoln, personal secretary to John F. Kennedy from the time he entered the United States Senate until the moment of his assassination. Mrs. Lincoln died in 1995, leaving, all her literary, rights and various manuscripts to Frank McGuire.

He is now editing the last of her three books on President Kennedy, which was specifically ordered not to be published until her death. Her first two books: My Twelve Years With John F. Kennedy, and then later Kennedy and Johnson, were best-sellers.

In addition to his close friendship of many years with Mrs. Lincoln and her late husband, political consultant Harold W. Lincoln, Frank McGuire was a reporter at the White House during the Kennedy Administration and traveled with the president to numerous defense and military installations. He uses his personal photographs of President Kennedy as illustrations during seminars on leadership and management on crisis management and on media relations.

He is currently a consultant to CBS News on terrorism, aviation safety/security and related topics, and has appeared on virtually TV and radio network in North America and in many foreign countries.

He has earned a broad global perspective through the variety of his experience. His company, Interests, Ltd., trains and consults with government agencies and Major Corporations. He founded "Security Intelligence Report," a global briefing for leaders concerned with terrorism intelligence and the security of people and assets.

His two-volume reference work Security Intelligence Sourcebook is an overview of global political violence, intelligence assessments, profiles of terror groups, data on international fugitives, high-technology explosives detection, aviation security, incident logs, statistics on terrorism, and other data. He also wrote Aviation Security Strategies for the 1990s, published by McGraw-Hill - Aerospace & Defense Group.

He founded the annual Aviation Disaster Management Symposium to provide a forum for leaders involved with the aftermath of aviation disasters, such as airport and airline managers, lawyers, insurance executives, media relations staff, psychologists, victim identification experts, family members and others.

He lectured regularly at the FBI Academy on the role of the media in terrorist incidents, and he is a consultant to the Office of International Criminal Justice.

Frank McGuire took a lengthy sabbatical after the JFK assassination and lived aboard a boat in the Caribbean for several years.

Born in Philadelphia, Pa., he received his B.A. degree in Syracuse University's Russian Studies Program, at which the commencement speaker was Senator John F. Kennedy. He earned his

M.A. from the Columbia University Graduate Journalism School's Advanced Science Writing program. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps.
