Subject: FBI Files-Giancana

I reviewed the FBI subject files, sections 1-16 (Series 92-3171), on Samuel M. Giancana, the Chicago Mafia Boss. Sections 1-16 commence with a review of Giancana's criminal and personal history. The files are a compilation of the FBI's surveillance of Giancana's activities (criminal and legitimate enterprises, as well as personal interactions) from 1958 until the end of 1962. The files include reports gathered from both electronic surveillance and personal informants. The reports concerning the placement of electronic surveillance devices have been sent to the JFK Collection at College Park and a copy remains in the FBI files.

The files are extremely detailed with respect to Giancana's criminal activities including those which took place in Chicago, Miami, Las Vegas and New York. However, there is very little information concerning the individuals and activities directly and unquestionably related to the assassination. It seems odd that there is so little reference to Giancana's hatred of the Kennedys and his connection to them through Frank Sinatra and Judith Exner Campbell. There were several references to Cuba and Mexico City, yet none of them relate to the assassination. For example, in the early years, Cuba was a place to "lam" or hide out from the authorities. Later references indicate that it became a business expansion zone for the Mob's legitimate and criminal activities. Mexico City was a possible venue for gambling (casino and dog races) and later reports indicate that one of Giancana's associates was permanently located in Mexico City in order to launder the organization's money through Mexico to Switzerland.

While the documents in these files are not classified, the information remains sensitive because the files contain informant symbol numbers and identifying information of FBI informants. The documents in this file do not record very much contact which would indicate Giancana's level of involvement in Kennedy assassination plans during this time. However, the electronic surveillance records were kept separately and could be more fruitful on this issue. I have compiled a list of documents from Series 92-3171 which may give some indication of Giancana's level of involvement in the events that, on at least some accounts, may relate to the assassination or lead to
