File Title: Isaacs, Harold

201-18446

A review of Harold Isaacs' 201 file indicates that the bulk of the material contained therein concerns the period 1930-1935, during which time he served as a journalist in Shanghai and was involved in Communist Party front activities.

The only evidences of CIA interest in Isaacs appears in the 201 file in the following documents:

1) 25 June 1951 Memorandum ⁰³ [Douglas D. Birnie] Deputy Chief, FE-1 to FT/CS; Subject: Harold R. Isaacs, Request for an information namecheck on.

This document requests an information namecheck for purpose of determining validity of charges that Isaacs is sympathetic to and/or connected with Communist activities.

It appears that Isaacs, in his position as an advisor on Far East projects for the Ford Foundation is in a position to be in contact ^{with} [redacted] who was ^{recently} called upon by the Ford Foundation to present some suggestions for a Far East program. [redacted]

2) 7 November 1951 Memorandum, Security Officer, Robert Cunningham to Asst. Director for Policy Coordination.

This memo appears responsive to request in #1 above. It states that Isaacs had been connected with at least 2 factions of Communist Party while living in Far East and that "extreme caution should be used in contacting or associating with Subject." Further investigation indicates that while Subject denies any current
