RE: CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
MIAMI DIVISION

WEEKLY SUMMARY

[redacted], PCI, advised that he received information that MINOT FRAZIER JELKE, aka Mickey Jelke, who was convicted in 1955 of inducing PAT WARD into a life of prostitution in New York City and who was sentenced to two to three years in prison, subsequently married SYLVIA EDER, sister of MAX EDER (Miami file 92-467). He stated in February SYLVIA EDER JELKE obtained a divorce from JELKE, who is an heir to a large oleo margarine fortune, and allegedly she was to receive $90,000 tax free settlement; one half interest in the $100,000 JELKE home at 12405 Keystone Drive; $600 a month to support their two sons; a 1959 Cadillac; as well as trust fund to be set up for the two sons from the other half interest in their home, when it is sold within the next 15 years and payment of her attorney fees of $7500. This source also advised JELKE on 2/8/63, married one JOAN MOBLEY in Folkston, Ga. In addition, he stated that JELKE reportedly backed NATHAN EDER, brother of MAX EDER, to the amount of $70,000 in a dress business at Miami during 1959.

OTHER 4

MM 822-C reported that the latter part of September, 1963, one JERRY SCHUMAN, who was connected with Ace Rent-A-Car System, Inc., North Hollywood, Calif., visited Miami and was in contact with MAX EDER, who allegedly assisted SCHUMAN, who was in Miami, attempting to secure the car rental service at one of the Miami Beach hotels.

MM 92-515

MM 830-C advised that Dade County Circuit Judge JOE EATON has ordered BEN NOVACK, operator of the Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach, and the hotel to pay a judgment close to $228,000 brought about by a judgment obtained by JAMES TALCOTT, Inc., New York City, which holds promissory notes of $125,000 and $75,000 of NOVACK and the Fontainebleau Hotel, which were given to Taylor Construction Co., Miami, Fla., for loans in April, 1962, and which notes were assigned by the Taylor Construction Co. to James Talcott, Inc. on loans the Taylor Construction Co. made from Talcott, Inc. He stated that allegedly NOVACK and the hotel had been holding up payment because the Taylor Construction is trying to reorganize under the bankruptcy law.

SHELDON KEMP, Supervisor, Florida Beverage Bureau, Miami, Fla., advised FRANK DIOGUARDI (Miami file 92-405) was disposing of his Casa Maria Restaurant, Dade County, Fla., to JOHN CASTORE, a former bartender at various Miami Beach night clubs, and one BRUNO PALMACCI. He also advised the operators of this restaurant will pay $10,000 rent next year and thereafter $10,500 for a number of years.
